FOR CONSERVATION

REV. G. S. COX THINKS IT NECESSARY FOR COUNTRY.

MANY LEAVING FARMS

Many Conditions Cause for Alarm in Rural Community—Large Crowd Attended Sermon.

The First Presbyterian church was crowded Wednesday night at the mid-week service in the week's program on Home Missions that is being conducted as a union service this week by the pastors of the city.

The information that is being given our church people this week by the five young pastors of the Protestant churches is proving of general interest, and is awakening a sense of responsibility in religious matters such as has not been felt before by such a large per cent of church members. The meeting Wednesday night was the largest yet held and was addressed by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church on "The Rural Community," and was the best review of that subject for an evening discussion that could well be gotten together.

The meeting tonight will be held at the First M. E. church, when the new pastor of the First Christian church, Rev. Robert L. Finch, will speak on "The City Church."

Rev. Cox said in his sermon as follows:

"The challenge in the case of the rural community is one of conservation. Exploration and discovery have a charm about them that conservation will never have, but conservation is just as important. Egypt gave birth to a race of giants in intellect and courage, but she could not conserve. Africa is the home of St. Augustine, a world renowned saint and reformer, but she could not conserve. Italy is the home of the Caesars and Dantes, but she could not conserve. Conservation is a very important but a discouraging and tedious undertaking.

"In times past the rural communities have been the source of the large per cent of the brain and brawn of the various vocations of life. True enough, most of them came to their best in the city, but the foundations of life were laid in the quiet of the country. Moses, Amos and the singer of the twenty-third Psalm, Hillis, estimated that eighty-five of every hundred of the business men of New York City were brought up in the country. The rural communities furnish eighty of every hundred of the students of the colleges in Chicago. A very large per cent of the leadership in education reform and religion today had their first lesson in the country home. Students of the city problem declare that were it not for the inflow of the purity, courage, strength and manliness from the rural communities the cities would have long since died of stagnation. If these things have any significance it is time we were giving our attention to the conservation of this great bulwark of the nation.

"For the last ten years or longer there has been a steady tide of strength moving out of these central states into the west. Besides this great loss there has been the pull of the city and the town, until in many localities there are less than half of the farmers land owners. Our schools have also been educating the young people away from the farms. All these forces and many more have brought about an alarming condition in country life. In spite of all these removals there are many millions left, and for the most part today are outside the influence of the church. In New York state alone there are one million seven hundred thousand outside the cities and incorporated villages.

"A survey of Adair, Sullivan and Knox counties, conducted by experts under the direction of the Home Missionary society of the Presbyterian church reveals this condition in our own state. Ninety-two of every hundred rural churches have preaching only one-fourth of the time, two of eighty-three have settled pastors, 24 per cent of the church were losing and the rural church furnished 53 per cent of the loss, 19 per cent were dying and the rural church furnished 65 per cent of those, 11 per cent were dead and the rural church furnished 86 per cent of the deaths. Today there are 1,700 dead churches in 111,800 in Ohio and 750 in Missouri.

"What are we going to do about this disheartening condition. The great need is for leadership. These same statistics show that where there are pastors the churches succeed. Not preachers but pastors, ministers, are what will do the most to help lift this great burden. Men with patience, education in everything that touches the farmer's life, men who know how to organize the life and give it an outlet. Good roads, scientific farming, athletics, play, music, reading, all these the leader must know how to use to conserve our great heritage. This kind of leadership calls a new devotion of men and money.

"A new day is dawning for the farmer. The school, the college, are awakening to his need. Some of the best young men of the day are seeing anew the possibilities of the country. Organizations are being perfected that auger power for the future farmer, the increase in cost of living, the marvelous immigration to this country, all tend to make farming more and more the important industry. Will the church of today surrender her leadership to materialism, grasping commercialism, and the powers that mar the life? If she hesitates now in the day of adversity, she will not get a hearing in the day of prosperity. Let us consecrate our means, our prayers and our best leadership to the conservation of the moral manhood of these millions."

FOR PLAYGROUND

AN EXHIBIT OF A MODEL EQUIPMENT FOR SUCH GROUND.

WE SHOULD HAVE ONE

The Equipment On a Small Scale Made by Manual Training Department—What Frank Shepherd Says.

In the show windows of Reuillard's bakery is a set of model playground equipment. The placard with this tells something of its history and looms up very large in the cut herewith shown. But that is not near all of the story. In an interview with Frank H. Shepherd of the manual training department of the Normal, under whose direction this equipment was made, he said:

"For two or more years the Mothers' Circle of Maryville has been talking about a playground and playground equipment. They had the matter far enough along once that Mayor Robey agreed to help do the work of installing the said equipment. I am creditably informed that he bought a new pair of overalls and borrowed the loan of a neighbor's shovel in anticipation of doing the work. For some reason or reasons unknown to me the matter rested there, and Brother Robey went right on with his job of mayoring.

"I always did like to push a good thing along and for that reason I wrote a letter to Prof. John T. Lister, physical director and professor of playground activities, Colorado state teachers' college, Greeley, Col., and asked him for blue prints, plans and specifications of the equipment in their playground.

"When these were sent to me my pupils went to work and constructed the set as you see it in the cut. The small dolls that are used to represent children at play were dressed by the members of my "handwork" class, and we had them (not the handwork class) on show as a part of our exhibit at the late union counties teachers' meeting.

"Honest-to-Bob, now there was another reason for making this stuff! When the members of the faculty were on their school visitation stunt the 8th to the 15th of September, I was down in Clinton county and kept asking teachers and directors what they were doing toward supervising the play of the children, what they intended to do toward fitting up the playground, and a number of other questions that were, perhaps, none of my business. Well, queer as it may seem, I found that many of the aforesaid school directors, school teachers and others had very little idea in regard to what a playground equipment is. Some few of them had been to Chicago and had seen the model playgrounds there that were equipped at a cost of about two million dollars, and they at once told me it was simply out of the question to think of such a thing. One director told me that their assessed valuation was only one hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars, and it would be impossible to sell the district for enough money to equip a playground. On my way home I said to myself, says I: 'What have you been doing, Shep old boy, toward getting playgrounds equipped? Now, Shep, just come across nd show me where you have done anything to help the matter along. Oh, yes, Professor Lister and Dr. Snyder, and Dr. I. E. Miller and a number of other men and women with titles and degrees to any length are willing to vouch for the fact that you are a wise guy on the subject of playground activities and you are able to build any old playground apparatus, but have you done it? Have you ever made any move to let others in on this good thing?' I just had to answer no, and you see the result.

"As to a playground and equipment? The equipment here shown can be made and installed for about $250. The very first thing about a school playground, or any other, for that matter, is a sand pile for the little ones. This should be at one side and under or near shade trees. The rest of the equipment may be added from time to time as you can afford it or as the teacher and larger boys see fit to build it. Oh, yes, I see no reason why the teacher and the pupils might not do a great deal of the work. A long time ago when I used to go to Sunday school there was a motto hanging on the wall of the room which said: "God helps those who help themselves." I am very much under the impression that many school teachers would find it would work out very satisfactorily if they would change that motto to read: The school board will help the teacher who shows an inclination to advance the general interest of the boys and girls of the district.

"I heard a great many comments on this equipment from teachers and others while the teachers' meeting was in progress here. I want to notice some of them, in particular that statement that I heard made about some of these things being dangerous for children to play upon. Yes, the see-saw or teeter boards are dangerous, the swings are dangerous, the Ferris wheel is dangerous. Children will quarrel and sometimes fight about which one shall swing first. The slide or shoot the chute is dangerous. So is the cherry tree in the back yard at home. The autos running on the streets are dangerous. Sliding down the stair rail is dangerous. What's the use! The great wonder to me is that these people ever go to bed. Why? Because so many people die in bed.

"President Richardson of the Normal school is trying to arrange things so that we may have a model playground in connection with the training school of the Normal. I hope the Mothers' Circle may beat him to it and get one for the city of Maryville. I am ready and willing to do all I can to help either party along. Of course, if you want to make it a sporting proposition I think the odds are in favor of President Richardson."

HOPKINS DIDN'T LIKE IT.

Says the Basket Ball Game Between Maryville and Hopkins Last Week Was Not a Fair Game.

This week's Hopkins Journal prints a great deal in regard to the game played last week in Maryville between the high school team and the Hopkins high school team. The following is what the Journal says:

The Hopkins high school basket ball team played the Maryville high school team at the Normal gymnasium on last Friday evening and were beaten by a score of 34 to 16, but the bitterness of defeat is not so great when it is known that one of the Maryville high school players is also a member of the Normal team, and was a star player on the famous Normal team of last year.

Superintendent Lowry protested vigorously against his being allowed to play on the Maryville high school team, citing the facts that he was a star on a collegiate team, that he was coaching the Rosendale high school team, and that as this player was taking only fifteen hours work at the high school and the rest of his work at the Normal, that the ethics of the proposition were questionable.

However, the Maryville folks didn't seem to be moved by the appeal of Professor Lowry, and insisted they couldn't arrange a team and leave out this acquired star. Their derth of basket ball material touched a tender spot in the heart of the Hopkins Superintendent, and because of his magnanimous sympathy for the Maryville team in its dilemma he allowed the Hopkins boys to take the floor with the odds against them.

As a grand finale to the game, the loyal lads and lasses gave their famous yell, "Rotten! Rotten!! Rotten!!!" We do not know, but suspect that there was one man in the audience who could listen and appreciate the deeper significance of the meaning contained in same.

TWO CASES FROM HERE

W. T. Jackson vs. Geo. W. Anderson and E. A. Johnson vs. D. A. and S. B. Williams.

In the case of W. F. Davis vs. Wm. H. Cramer that was tried in Andrew county circuit court Wednesday before a jury, the plaintiff won the case and received a verdict of $662 from the hands of the jury. The case was tried in the Nodaway county circuit court at the last November term, the jury being unable to agree. Then Judge Ellison disqualified himself from sitting in the case at the February term of court and a change of venue was granted to Andrew county.

The case of Pat Growney vs. Jerry Vaughn for attorney fees, a change of venue from this county to Andrew county having been granted, was being tried at Savannah Wednesday evening. The case will probably be finished some time today.

The two cases from this county to be tried at Savannah are that of W. T. Jackson vs. George W. Anderson and that of E. A. Johnson vs. D. A. and S. B. Williams.

Nodaway county furnished the only jury cases that are to be tried in the Andrew county circuit court at this term. Judge Burnes was the circuit judge of that district.

Nearly all of the members of the Maryville bar are at Savannah in connection with these cases. There are also a large number of witnesses from this county in these cases.

A NOTE FROM 1834

HOPKINS MAN WAS ONE FOR $45, THE INTEREST IS $3,940.

GIVEN BY A MORMAN

It Reads, "Payable in Mormon Scrip in Three Days After Demand."

According to the Hopkins Journal Freedom Gates of that city has a note in his possession given to his father in 1834 by S. M. Smith, father of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith.

The note is for $45, and reads: "Payable in Mormon scrip in three days after demand."

The senior Mr. Gates was a Mormon elder back in Vermont when the church flourished in the east, but quit the organization when the church sanctioned polygamy.

A great grandson of the giver of the note now lives in Independence, Joe Smith, Jr., and Freedom is going to send him the note with the request that he at least pay the principal.

The note was given seventy-nine years ago and the interest on the $45 was computed by the cashier of the Bank of Hopkins the other day, the result showing that it now amounts to $3,940.

On the other hand, if the conscience of Mr. Gates should get to bothering him, he might want to pay the taxes on this note which now amounts to $124.42.

Banta a Source of Trouble.

Walter Banta, who was turned loose from the county jail a few weeks ago after serving out his time for stealing chickens, seems to be causing Sheriff Ed Wallace some little trouble. According to the story told Thursday Banta went to Shenandoah, Ia., Wednesday, and in order to get lodging and meals in the county jail there he told the sheriff late that night that he (Banta) was wanted by the sheriff of this county. A phone message was received by Sheriff Wallace Thursday morning, and he told them that Banta was not wanted here. Sheriff Wallace also received a letter from Banta recently in which that young man writes in not very nice terms of Wallace.

There has been many complaints in regard to this bridge, as it is not high enough for even a load of hay.

Everything concerning the arrangements for the wedding is being kept as secret as possible, so we cannot tell you much more than this. CONFERENCE LEAVES BILL WITH COMMITTEE

Allowed Time for Further Consideration of Money Measure.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The attempt to force the administration currency bill through the senate by way of the Democratic caucus was abandoned and the banking and currency committee of the senate was given time for further consideration of the bill. A practical agreement by six Democratic senators, half of the committee, and hope for a final report within five or six days, was reported to the Democratic conference by Senator Owen, and at his request the conference took no action.

Since the call for the conference was issued Senators Reed and O'Gorman had joined Chairman Owen and Senators Pomerene, Shafroth and Hollis in support of the administration measure, despite their votes against some of its provisions in the committee. These six Democrats have virtually agreed on a bill which meets the views of President Wilson. This measure will be taken before the senate as soon as possible.

A further attempt to swing Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska in line with his Democratic colleagues was made in a meeting of Democrats of the committee after the conference, but Senator Hitchcock insisted he could not reconcile his views with the demands of the president.

PREDICTS PROHIBITION SOON

Hodges Prophesies Nation Will Wipe Out Liquor Traffic.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—Predicting that a resolution prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating beverages in the United States and all territories under its jurisdiction soon would be adopted by congress, and declaring that "if I am governor of Kansas, I will immediately convene the legislature in special session, if necessary, for the purpose of ratifying the amendment," George H. Hodges of Kansas, threw the American Anti-Saloon league into an uproar of applause.

Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota gave statistics to show the prosperity of his state under the "prohibition" reign, and said the "brewers' year book" showed no consumption in his state of their manufacture in 1911.

The day session was brought to a climax with a stirring address by former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee, in which he gave reasons for his enlisting with the anti-saloon movement and reviewed his former life and activities, which, according to his statement, had been with the forces opposed to suppression of the liquor traffic.

Letters to Santa Claus Delivered.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Hereafter, during the month of December, Santa Claus will be recognized as a real entity by the postoffice department and letters for him will be received and delivered. Postmaster General Burleson issued an order making permanent the custom hitherto employed of turning over to charitable persons or organizations all letters received through the mails from children anxious to confide their desires to the dispenser of toys. Each postmaster has been authorized to dispose of such mail, local to his office, in accordance with the order.

Bitten by Dog; Given $3,500.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—A jury in the circuit court here awarded Albert J. Good $3,500 damages against the United Railways, the local traction company, because he was bitten by a dog while riding on a street car. The dog was picked up on the street by a policeman, who was permitted by the street car conductor to board the car with the animal.

HALE CONFERS WITH CARRANZA

United States Emissary Bears Message to Rebel Chief.

PROPOSAL IS IN WRITING

Requires Pledges in Case Embargo Is Lifted—Order Must Be Restored and Representative Government Set Up. Protection for Foreigners.

Nogales, Mex., Nov. 13.—Crossing a narrow little street from the United States into Mexico William Bayard Hale, personal representative of President Wilson, met the constitutionalist chief, General Carranza, and his cabinet and presented to them a proposal from the American government. What the proposal was the American diplomatic agent declined to say. The Mexican revolutionary leaders also were silent, but to those who have been anxiously awaiting the development of American policy with regard to Mexico it was fraught with possibilities for the destinies of the war-torn republic and its relations with its northern neighbor.

All that could be learned regarding the proposal of the American president was that it was in writing and that it required certain things, including pledges, from the constitutionalists, in case the United States lifted the embargo on the exportation of arms. Among the guarantees were said to be restoration of general order in a reasonable time, safety of Americans and other foreigners and the ultimate establishment of bona fide representative government.

HUERTA IS STILL DEFIANT

Tacitly Refuses to Accede to Demands of United States.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—Victoriano Huerta tacitly refused to accede to the demands of the United States, expressed in an ultimatum sent to him by President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind. General Huerta was notified that unless he returned an answer by 6 p. m. to the effect that he would prevent the newly elected congress from convening and, furthermore make this action known to the members of the diplomatic corps by midnight, the United States would have no further parleying with the Mexican government.

Mr. Lind waited until 6 o'clock and received no answer. He then made arrangements for his departure for Vera Cruz.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the charge, was the messenger who delivered the ultimatum. He was unable to get into personal touch with General Huerta, but left the message at the president's office.

It was intimated at the palace that General Huerta had not received the note in time to give it full consideration. This, however, did not appear to Mr. Lind a valid excuse for procrastination.

NATIONAL GRANGE MEETS

Would Apply Labor and Money Spent on Canal to Highways.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 13.—The labor and money spent on the Panama canal might have been used to better purpose on the highways of this country, Oliver Wilson of Illinois, master of the National Grange, told the delegates to the national convention of the Patrons of Husbandry in his annual report.

"The building of the Panama canal is a national project of which all Americans are proud, yet the same amount of labor and money spent on our highways at home would create benefits, nearer and probably more important to our people," he said.

Southern Pacific Stock Nearly All Sold

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Central Trust company of New York, trustee appointed by the federal courts to sell the Southern Pacific stock held by the Union Pacific, in accordance with the merger dissolution, reported to Attorney General McReynolds that 47,200 shares of Southern Pacific stock were sold during the month of October. Of that amount, 6,021 were in lots of less than 100 shares. The total sold so far under the court's decree, is 684,111 shares, leaving about 100,000 shares to be disposed of.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Aquila H. Dulaney, under indictment here for forgery and said by the police to be a notorious forger, was arrested by a private citizen here after a chase. New Phenomenon in Physics.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Professor Francis E. Nipher of the department of physics of Washington university announced that he had discovered what he believes to be a new law in mechanics—that more power is required to propel an object on an incline of 45 to 60 degrees than to lift it out right.

MINE OWNERS ARE WARNED

Labor Secretary Declares He Will Turn Light on Profits.

GIVES FIGURES IN ADVANCE.

Michigan Company in Forty-two Years Earned Nearly Two Hundred Millions—Operators Would Not Accept Offices of Bureau in Dispute.

Seattle, Nov. 13.—Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, addressing the American Federation of Labor, bitterly condemned the attitude of the Michigan copper mining companies and warned them that a new conception of titles to property was in progress of formation. He declared he would make public not only the wages paid to the miners, the hours they worked and the labor conditions, but the enormous profits of the mine owners.

Of the situation at Calumet, the secretary said it had heretofore been the custom to investigate wages, hours and conditions of labor and report these to the public. This time, he said, it had been determined to go a step farther and investigate the earnings of the corporation involved.

"And the little bit of confidence that I am going to give you," he added, "is an advance statement of one of the items in that situation—that the largest corporation engaged in the production of copper in the Michigan district was organized in 1879 under the laws of the state of Michigan; that the face value of its capital stock is $2,500,000. The shares are $25 each. They were procured at $12 each, so the actual investment is $1,250,000. From that time until one year ago, the last fiscal report that we had, a period of forty-two years, that corporation declared in dividends $121,000,000 on an investment of $1,250,000; and made reinvestments out of its earnings of $75,000,000. Nearly $200,000,000 of actual net profits in a period of forty-two years on an investment of $1,250,000, and then not only protest against meeting committees of their workmen, but refuse to accept the good offices of the department of labor in negotiating the difficulties.

"They say their property is their own, that they have the right to do with it as they please. Maybe they have, but those who hold that position have a false conception of titles to property."

The secretary said every title was law-created and law-protected and that deprived of those laws the property involved would be at the mercy of the first strong and cunning man who desired it.

MRS. SIMMONS TAKES POISON

Gossip Drives Woman to Commit Suicide at Excelsior Springs.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Martha C. Simmons, widow of Dr. C. S. Simmons of St. Louis, formerly a successful medicine manufacturer, committed suicide here. Mrs. Simmons utilized a slow poison. She was married to Dr. Simmons in 1908, after her sister, Hattie, who was Dr. Simmons' first wife, had secured a divorce. She had acted as the doctor's private secretary while he was living with his first wife.

A Kansas City physician, to whom Mrs. Simmons had been engaged until a week ago, declared Mrs. Simmons had told him unceasing gossip concerning her relations with Dr. Simmons prior to their marriage had made her despondent.

CLEVELAND IS RECOVERING

Icicles and Snow on Roofs Menace to Pedestrians.

Cleveland, Nov. 13.—The work of restoring Cleveland to normal order is proceeding rapidly. Supplies of coal and food began to come in and inconveniences due to the recent blizzard rapidly were eliminated.

Electric light service to many parts of the city which have been dark for three nights were partially restored.

The menace of icicles and mountains of snow which festoon all the downtown buildings caused police to be stationed along the streets to warn people to keep out near the curb.

Storm Wrecks Ship; Crew of 32 Lost.

Goderich, Ont., Nov. 13.—Another tragedy has been added to the long list of disasters as a result of the terrific storm, which prevailed on the lakes. Wreckage from the freighter James Carruthers washed ashore. That it has foundered a few miles off Goderich harbor seems certain and its crew of thirty-two men, headed by Captain Wright of Toronto, are believed to have been lost.

Wrecked Freighter Believed Regina.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 13.—After working desperately since morning in an unsuccessful attempt positively to identify the derelict freighter which lies bottom side up in stormy Lake Huron, eight miles northwest of here, many marine men returned to Port Huron convinced that the boat was the Canadian Pacific freighter Regina.

Charlton Trial Postponed.

Como, Italy, Nov. 13.—Porter Charlton, the young American awaiting trial here on the charge of murdering his wife at Lake Como in 1910, learned that the hearing of the case was not likely to begin before the end of March.

The Government Wants Dairymen.

The establishment of creameries on several irrigation projects of the government during the past two years has proven so successful that there is widespread interest in dairying among the settlers. Unfortunately many of the settlers are without the necessary capital to purchase good dairy stock and for the time being are forced to continue the uneconomic method of selling all their forage crops. A large number of these settlers are trying to operate more land than their means will permit, and with a view of engaging in dairying are desirous of subdividing their farms in order to get money for the purchase of stock. This has placed on the market a considerable area of land on several projects where nearly all of the government land has been taken up. The prices and terms offered are more on the basis of the need for money than on actual value, and offer excellent opportunities for experienced dairymen to establish themselves in communities where the success of their enterprise is practically assured. There are numerous sections where good land suited for dairy farming can be had at prices ranging from $25 to $50 per acre, with water ready for irrigation. On all these projects the markets for dairy products, beef and pork, are excellent and there is every indication of a continuance for an indefinite period. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that dairy farming in the west is the safest, surest, and in the long run the most profitable form of agriculture to engage in.

The settlement agent of the U. S. reclamation service at Chicago is furnishing information concerning location, prices and terms to all who are seeking homes in the west, but is especially desirous of interesting practical farmers with capital. Many of these projects contain a few government farms available for homesteading, and literature describing them is also supplied. In view of the very high prices prevailing elsewhere for lands suitable for dairying, the western opportunities are regarded as exceedingly attractive.

DONAHOE GUILTY; STIEFEL ACQUITTED

Attorney Fined Two Thousand Dollars in Funk Case.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Attorney Daniel Donahoe, charged with conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, was found guilty and fined $2,000. Detective Isaac Stiefel, tried on the same charge, was found not guilty.

Donahoe and Stiefel were indicted, charged with conspiracy to defame, after a suit charging Mr. Funk with having alienated the affections of Mrs. John C. Henning had been dismissed. Henning, in whose name the suit against Mr. Funk was brought, had been a bellboy. He disappeared after the trial, but was arrested in Minneapolis just before the trial of Donahoe and Stiefel began. He and Mrs. Henning were the chief witnesses for the prosecution.

The names of both former Senator Lorimer and Edward Hines, millionaire lumber merchant, were mentioned in the Donahoe trial by Funk, who related the substance of testimony given before the United States senate. Mr. Funk testified that Edward Hines had said: "Well, we put Lorimer over, but it cost $100,000."

Shakespeare in California.

The Los Angeles board of education, acting upon the advice of School Superintendent Francis, has excluded "The Merchant of Venice" from the schools. "I do not believe," says Francis, "that 'The Merchant of Venice' correctly portrays the character of the Jew. There are many fine traits of Jewish character that are not brought out in Shakespeare's play." Why not exclude all of Shakespeare's plays? "Hamlet," for example, which the Francis type of mind would naturally consider as suggesting that all Danes are morbidly semi-insane; "Macbeth," which Mr. Francis might presume to imply that all Scotchmen are murderers.—Sacramento Union.

Moving Picture Animals.

A jungle of several acres, inhabited by wild animals of all countries, many of which are already well trained for the parts they are to play as motion picture actors, is maintained near Los Angeles by one of the big American film-producing companies. It is intended to extend the acreage and accommodations until the motion picture jungle will form the largest single collection of wild animals in the world, and within it will be, and now are, enacted many stirring scenes. A big elephant named "Toddles" is, for instance, the star performer in a film catalogued as "Lost in the Jungle," in which Toddles, during his wanderings in the forest, finds the heroine lying exhausted on the ground, and, kneeling, lifts her to his back and gallantly carries her to safety. All the animals are as conscientiously trained to do acts for the motion picture camera as are the trained animals of a circus.

Unpretentious Royal Abode.

King Charles of Roumania has seen many changes, largely effected by himself, in his Balkan kingdom since he arrived there in 1866 after an adventurous journey in disguise from Germany. Notable among them are the changes in his capital and in his own palace. When he made his triumphal entry as the country's new prince the carriage reached a house before which a guard of honor was stationed. "What house is that?" he asked. "That is the palace," replied General Goleski. The prince, thinking he had misunderstood him, said: "Where is the palace?" And the general was so embarrassed that he could only point silently to the one-storied building. The principal feature of the view from the windows on one side was a gypsy encampment, with swine wallowing in the main road before the palace!

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEETS AT COLUMBUS

Campaign for Nation-Wide Prohibition is Started.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Nation-wide prohibition, to be accomplished through an amendment to the federal constitution, was the keynote sounded by speakers at the national convention of the Anti-Saloon league. Thousands cheered when speakers demanded that the prohibition question be put squarely up to congress at once.

Former Senator Sanders of Tennessee, who presided, told the convention it would be necessary to have as president of the United States a man in favor of national prohibition before it can be accomplished.

Marian Lawrence, general secretary of the International Sunday School association, told of Sunday school work throughout the country and declared they are making "voters of tomorrow" who will support national prohibition providing it does not come before they have a chance to vote.

Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie of Washington, executive superintendent, said a campaign will be started to give proper credit to congressmen and senators who voted for the passage of the Webb-Kenyon bill.

"With two-thirds of the territory in the country dry now, the time has come when the people are ready to promulgate a campaign for national prohibition," he said.

BISHOPS DENY REPORT

Methodists Not Buried Under Big Debt for Foreign Missions.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 12.—Reports circulated that the board of foreign missions of the Methodist church was buried under a $750,000 debt was vigorously denied by the bishops in session here. Corresponding Secretary Frank Mason North stated that the report originated from the fact that the board loaned $474,000 to the foreign missions and that $350,000 had been borrowed for use until the church payments came due.

Missionaries from India stated there had been a building up of over 100 per cent in Christianity in that country in the last ten years. The lower caste of the natives were those most affected.

At the meeting of the foreign mission board it was decided to appropriate $1,157,469 for the Methodist mission work of the next year. Of this amount $893,658 goes to field work. The total is $48,465 more than was appropriated last year.

It was decided to build a new native church at Singapore to cost $20,000. The announcement also was made of a gift of $40,000 for the work in France.

FOR CONSERVATION

REV. G. S. COX THINKS IT NECESSARY FOR COUNTRY.

MANY LEAVING FARMS

Many Conditions Cause for Alarm in Rural Community—Large Crowd Attended Sermon.

The First Presbyterian church was crowded Wednesday night at the mid-week service in the week's program on Home Missions that is being conducted as a union service this week by the pastors of the city.

The information that is being given our church people this week by the five young pastors of the Protestant churches is proving of general interest, and is awakening a sense of responsibility in religious matters such as has not been felt before by such a large per cent of church members. The meeting Wednesday night was the largest yet held and was addressed by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church on "The Rural Community," and was the best review of that subject for an evening discussion that could well be gotten together.

The meeting tonight will be held at the First M. E. church, when the new pastor of the First Christian church, Rev. Robert L. Finch, will speak on "The City Church."

Rev. Cox said in his sermon as follows:

"The challenge in the case of the rural community is one of conservation. Exploration and discovery have a charm about them that conservation will never have, but conservation is just as important. Egypt gave birth to a race of giants in intellect and courage, but she could not conserve. Africa is the home of St. Augustine, a world renowned saint and reformer, but she could not conserve. Italy is the home of the Caesars and Dantes, but she could not conserve. Conservation is a very important but a discouraging and tedious undertaking.

"In times past the rural communities have been the source of the large per cent of the brain and brawn of the various vocations of life. True enough, most of them came to their best in the city, but the foundations of life were laid in the quiet of the country. Moses, Amos and the singer of the twenty-third Psalm, Hillis, estimated that eighty-five of every hundred of the business men of New York City were brought up in the country. The rural communities furnish eighty of every hundred of the students of the colleges in Chicago. A very large per cent of the leadership in education reform and religion today had their first lesson in the country home. Students of the city problem declare that were it not for the inflow of the purity, courage, strength and manliness from the rural communities the cities would have long since died of stagnation. If these things have any significance it is time we were giving our attention to the conservation of this great bulwark of the nation.

"For the last ten years or longer there has been a steady tide of strength moving out of these central states into the west. Besides this great loss there has been the pull of the city and the town, until in many localities there are less than half of the farmers land owners. Our schools have also been educating the young people away from the farms. All these forces and many more have brought about an alarming condition in country life. In spite of all these removals there are many millions left, and for the most part today are outside the influence of the church. In New York state alone there are one million seven hundred thousand outside the cities and incorporated villages.

"A survey of Adair, Sullivan and Knox counties, conducted by experts under the direction of the Home Missionary society of the Presbyterian church reveals this condition in our own state. Ninety-two of every hundred rural churches have preaching only one-fourth of the time, two of eighty-three have settled pastors, 24 per cent of the church were losing and the rural church furnished 53 per cent of the loss, 19 per cent were dying and the rural church furnished 65 per cent of those, 11 per cent were dead and the rural church furnished 86 per cent of the deaths. Today there are 1,700 dead churches in 111,800 in Ohio and 750 in Missouri.

"What are we going to do about this disheartening condition. The great need is for leadership. These same statistics show that where there are pastors the churches succeed. Not preachers but pastors, ministers, are what will do the most to help lift this great burden. Men with patience, education in everything that touches the farmer's life, men who know how to organize the life and give it an outlet. Good roads, scientific farming, athletics, play, music, reading, all these the leader must know how to use to conserve our great heritage. This kind of leadership calls a new devotion of men and money.

"A new day is dawning for the farmer. The school, the college, are awakening to his need. Some of the best young men of the day are seeing anew the possibilities of the country. Organizations are being perfected that auger power for the future farmer, the increase in cost of living, the marvelous immigration to this country, all tend to make farming more and more the important industry. Will the church of today surrender her leadership to materialism, grasping commercialism, and the powers that mar the life? If she hesitates now in the day of adversity, she will not get a hearing in the day of prosperity. Let us consecrate our means, our prayers and our best leadership to the conservation of the moral manhood of these millions."

FOR PLAYGROUND

AN EXHIBIT OF A MODEL EQUIPMENT FOR SUCH GROUND.

WE SHOULD HAVE ONE

The Equipment On a Small Scale Made by Manual Training Department—What Frank Shepherd Says.

In the show windows of Reuillard's bakery is a set of model playground equipment. The placard with this tells something of its history and looms up very large in the cut herewith shown. But that is not near all of the story. In an interview with Frank H. Shepherd of the manual training department of the Normal, under whose direction this equipment was made, he said:

"For two or more years the Mothers' Circle of Maryville has been talking about a playground and playground equipment. They had the matter far enough along once that Mayor Robey agreed to help do the work of installing the said equipment. I am creditably informed that he bought a new pair of overalls and borrowed the loan of a neighbor's shovel in anticipation of doing the work. For some reason or reasons unknown to me the matter rested there, and Brother Robey went right on with his job of mayoring.

"I always did like to push a good thing along and for that reason I wrote a letter to Prof. John T. Lister, hysical director and professor of playground activities, Colorado state teachers' college, Greeley, Col., and asked him for blue prints, plans and specifications of the equipment in their playground.

"When these were sent to me my pupils went to work and constructed the set as you see it in the cut. The small dolls that are used to represent children at play were dressed by the members of my "handwork" class, and we had them (not the handwork class) on show as a part of our exhibit at the late union counties teachers' meeting.

"Honest-to-Bob, now there was another reason for making this stuff! When the members of the faculty were on their school visitation stunt the 8th to the 15th of September, I was down in Clinton county and kept asking teachers and directors what they were doing toward supervising the play of the children, what they intended to do toward fitting up the playground, and a number of other questions that were, perhaps, none of my business. Well, queer as it may seem, I found that many of the aforesaid school directors, school teachers and others had very little idea in regard to what a playground equipment is. Some few of them had been to Chicago and had seen the model playgrounds there that were equipped at a cost of about two million dollars, and they at once told me it was simply out of the question to think of such a thing. One director told me that their assessed valuation was only one hundred sixty-eight thousand dollars, and it would be impossible to sell the district for enough money to equip a playground. On my way home I said to myself, says I: 'What have you been doing, Shep old boy, toward getting playgrounds equipped? Now, Shep, just come across nd show me where you have done anything to help the matter along. Oh, yes, Professor Lister and Dr. Snyder, and Dr. I. E. Miller and a number of other men and women with titles and degrees to any length are willing to vouch for the fact that you are a wise guy on the subject of playground activities and you are able to build any old playground apparatus, but have you done it? Have you ever made any move to let others in on this good thing?' I just had to answer no, and you see the result.

"As to a playground and equipment? The equipment here shown can be made and installed for about $250. The very first thing about a school playground, or any other, for that matter, is a sand pile for the little ones. This should be at one side and under or near shade trees. The rest of the equipment may be added from time to time as you can afford it or as the teacher and larger boys see fit to build it. Oh, yes, I see no reason why the teacher and the pupils might not do a great deal of the work. A long time ago when I used to go to Sunday school there was a motto hanging on the wall of the room which said: "God helps those who help themselves." I am very much under the impression that many school teachers would find it would work out very satisfactorily if they would change that motto to read: The school board will help the teacher who shows an inclination to advance the general interest of the boys and girls of the district.

"I heard a great many comments on this equipment from teachers and others while the teachers' meeting was in progress here. I want to notice some of them, in particular that statement that I heard made about some of these things being dangerous for children to play upon. Yes, the see-saw or teeter boards are dangerous, the swings are dangerous, the Ferris wheel is dangerous. Children will quarrel and sometimes fight about which one shall swing first. The slide or shoot the chute is dangerous. So is the cherry tree in the back yard at home. The autos running on the streets are dangerous. Sliding down the stair rail is dangerous. What's the use! The great wonder to me is that these people ever go to bed. Why? Because so many people die in bed.

"President Richardson of the Normal school is trying to arrange things so that we may have a model playground in connection with the training school of the Normal. I hope the Mothers' Circle may beat him to it and get one for the city of Maryville. I am ready and willing to do all I can to help either party along. Of course, if you want to make it a sporting proposition I think the odds are in favor of President Richardson."

HOPKINS DIDN'T LIKE IT.

Says the Basket Ball Game Between Maryville and Hopkins Last Week Was Not a Fair Game.

This week's Hopkins Journal prints a great deal in regard to the game played last week in Maryville between the high school team and the Hopkins high school team. The following is what the Journal says:

The Hopkins high school basket ball team played the Maryville high school team at the Normal gymnasium on last Friday evening and were beaten by a score of 34 to 16, but the bitterness of defeat is not so great when it is known that one of the Maryville high school players is also a member of the Normal team, and was a star player on the famous Normal team of last year.

Superintendent Lowry protested vigorously against his being allowed to play on the Maryville high school team, citing the facts that he was a star on a collegiate team, that he was coaching the Rosendale high school team, and that as this player was taking only fifteen hours work at the high school and the rest of his work at the Normal, that the ethics of the proposition were questionable.

However, the Maryville folks didn't seem to be moved by the appeal of Professor Lowry, and insisted they couldn't arrange a team and leave out this acquired star. Their derth of basket ball material touched a tender spot in the heart of the Hopkins Superintendent, and because of his magnanimous sympathy for the Maryville team in its dilemma he allowed the Hopkins boys to take the floor with the odds against them.

As a grand finale to the game, the loyal lads and lasses gave their famous yell, "Rotten! Rotten!! Rotten!!!" We do not know, but suspect that there was one man in the audience who could listen and appreciate the deeper significance of the meaning contained in same.

VERDICT TO DAVIS

W. F. DAVIS VS. WM. H. CRAMER CASE TRIED AT SAVANNAH.

TWO CASES FROM HERE

W. T. Jackson vs. Geo. W. Anderson and E. A. Johnson vs. D. A. and S. B. Williams.

In the case of W. F. Davis vs. Wm. H. Cramer that was tried in Andrew county circuit court Wednesday before a jury, the plaintiff won the case and received a verdict of $662 from the hands of the jury. The case was tried in the Nodaway county circuit court at the last November term, the jury being unable to agree. Then Judge Ellison disqualified himself from sitting in the case at the February term of court and a change of venue was granted to Andrew county.

The case of Pat Growney vs. Jerry Vaughn for attorney fees, a change of venue from this county to Andrew county having been granted, was being tried at Savannah Wednesday evening. The case will probably be finished some time today.

The two cases from this county to be tried at Savannah are that of W. T. Jackson vs. George W. Anderson and that of E. A. Johnson vs. D. A. and S. B. Williams.

Nodaway county furnished the only jury cases that are to be tried in the Andrew county circuit court at this term. Judge Burnes was the circuit judge of that district.

Nearly all of the members of the Maryville bar are at Savannah in connection with these cases. There are also a large number of witnesses from this county in these cases.

A NOTE FROM 1834

HOPKINS MAN HAS ONE FOR $45, THE INTEREST IS $3,940.

GIVEN BY A MORMAN

It Reads, "Payable in Mormon Scrip in Three Days After Demand."

According to the Hopkins Journal Freedom Gates of that city has a note in his possession given to his father in 1834 by S. M. Smith, father of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith.

The note is for $45, and reads: "Payable in Mormon scrip in three days after demand."

The senior Mr. Gates was a Mormon elder back in Vermont when the church flourished in the east, but quit the organization when the church sanctioned polygamy.

A great grandson of the giver of the note now lives in Independence, Joe Smith, Jr., and Freedom is going to send him the note with the request that he at least pay the principal.

The note was given seventy-nine years ago and the interest on the $45 was computed by the cashier of the Bank of Hopkins the other day, the result showing that it now amounts to $3,940.

On the other hand, if the conscience of Mr. Gates should get to bothering him, he might want to pay the taxes on this note which now amounts to $124.42.

Banta a Source of Trouble.

Walter Banta, who was turned loose from the county jail a few weeks ago after serving out his time for stealing chickens, seems to be causing Sheriff Ed Wallace some little trouble. According to the story told Thursday Banta went to Shenandoah, Ia., Wednesday, and in order to get lodging and meals in the county jail there he told the sheriff late that night that he (Banta) was wanted by the sheriff of this county. A phone message was received by Sheriff Wallace Thursday morning, and he told them that Banta was not wanted here. Sheriff Wallace also received a letter from Banta recently in which that young man writes in not very nice terms of Wallace.

Everything concerning the arrangements for the wedding is being kept as secret as possible, so we cannot tell you much more than this. CONFERENCE LEAVES BILL WITH COMMITTEE

Allowed Time for Further Consideration of Money Measure.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The attempt to force the administration currency bill through the senate by way of the Democratic caucus was abandoned and the banking and currency committee of the senate was given time for further consideration of the bill. A practical agreement by six Democratic senators, half of the committee, and hope for a final report within five or six days, was reported to the Democratic conference by Senator Owen, and at his request the conference took no action.

Since the call for the conference was issued Senators Reed and O'Gorman had joined Chairman Owen and Senators Pomerene, Shafroth and Hollis in support of the administration measure, despite their votes against some of its provisions in the committee. These six Democrats have virtually agreed on a bill which meets the views of President Wilson. This measure will be taken before the senate as soon as possible.

A further attempt to swing Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska in line with his Democratic colleagues was made in a meeting of Democrats of the committee after the conference, but Senator Hitchcock insisted he could not reconcile his views with the demands of the president.

PREDICTS PROHIBITION SOON

Hodges Prophesies Nation Will Wipe Out Liquor Traffic.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—Predicting that a resolution prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating beverages in the United States and all territories under its jurisdiction soon would be adopted by congress, and declaring that "if I am governor of Kansas, I will immediately convene the legislature in special session, if necessary, for the purpose of ratifying the amendment," George H. Hodges of Kansas, threw the American Anti-Saloon league into an uproar of applause.

Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota gave statistics to show the prosperity of his state under the "prohibition" reign, and said the "brewers' year book" showed no consumption in his state of their manufacture in 1911.

The day session was brought to a climax with a stirring address by former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee, in which he gave reasons for his enlisting with the anti-saloon movement and reviewed his former life and activities, which, according to his statement, had been with the forces opposed to suppression of the liquor traffic.

HALE CONFERS WITH CARRANZA

United States Emissary Bears Message to Rebel Chief.

PROPOSAL IS IN WRITING

Nogales, Mex., Nov. 13.—Crossing a narrow little street from the United States into Mexico William Bayard Hale, personal representative of President Wilson, met the constitutionalist chief, General Carranza, and his cabinet and presented to them a proposal from the American government. What the proposal was the American diplomatic agent declined to say. The Mexican revolutionary leaders also were silent, but to those who have been anxiously awaiting the development of American policy with regard to Mexico it was fraught with possibilities for the destinies of the war-torn republic and its relations with its northern neighbor.

All that could be learned regarding the proposal of the American president was that it was in writing and that it required certain things, including pledges, from the constitutionalists, in case the United States lifted the embargo on the exportation of arms. Among the guarantees were said to be restoration of general order in a reasonable time, safety of Americans and other foreigners and the ultimate establishment of bona fide representative government.

HUERTA IS STILL DEFIANT

Tacitly Refuses to Accede to Demands of United States.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—Victoriano Huerta tacitly refused to accede to the demands of the United States, expressed in an ultimatum sent to him by President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind. General Huerta was notified that unless he returned an answer by 6 p. m. to the effect that he would prevent the newly elected congress from convening and, furthermore make this action known to the members of the diplomatic corps by midnight, the United States would have no further parleying with the Mexican government.

Mr. Lind waited until 6 o'clock and received no answer. He then made arrangements for his departure for Vera Cruz.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the charge, was the messenger who delivered the ultimatum. He was unable to get into personal touch with General Huerta, but left the message at the president's office.

It was intimated at the palace that General Huerta had not received the note in time to give it full consideration. This, however, did not appear to Mr. Lind a valid excuse for procrastination.

NATIONAL GRANGE MEETS

Would Apply Labor and Money Spent on Canal to Highways.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 13.—The labor and money spent on the Panama canal might have been used to better purpose on the highways of this country, Oliver Wilson of Illinois, master of the National Grange, told the delegates to the national convention of the Patrons of Husbandry in his annual report.

"The building of the Panama canal is a national project of which all Americans are proud, yet the same amount of labor and money spent on our highways at home would create benefits, nearer and probably more important to our people," he said.

Southern Pacific Stock Nearly All Sold

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Central Trust company of New York, trustee appointed by the federal courts to sell the Southern Pacific stock held by the Union Pacific, in accordance with the merger dissolution, reported to Attorney General McReynolds that 47,200 shares of Southern Pacific stock were sold during the month of October. Of that amount, 6,021 were in lots of less than 100 shares. The total sold so far under the court's decree, is 684,111 shares, leaving about 100,000 shares to be disposed of.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Aquila H. Dulaney, under indictment here for forgery and said by the police to be a notorious forger, was arrested by a private citizen here after a chase. When he was taken, his fourth wife, a bride of three weeks, was waiting for him at a hotel. Dulaney said after his third wife had divorced him in 1912 he began his career of forgery.

New Phenomenon in Physics.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—Professor Francis E. Nipher of the department of physics of Washington university announced that he had discovered what he believes to be a new law in mechanics—that more power is required to propel an object on an incline of 45 to 60 degrees than to lift it out right.

MINE OWNERS ARE WARNED

Labor Secretary Declares He Will Turn Light on Profits.

GIVES FIGURES IN ADVANCE.

Michigan Company in Forty-two Years Earned Nearly Two Hundred Millions—Operators Would Not Accept Offices of Bureau in Dispute.

Seattle, Nov. 13.—Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, addressing the American Federation of Labor, bitterly condemned the attitude of the Michigan copper mining companies and warned them that a new conception of titles to property was in progress of formation. He declared he would make public not only the wages paid to the miners, the hours they worked and the labor conditions, but the enormous profits of the mine owners.

Of the situation at Calumet, the secretary said it had heretofore been the custom to investigate wages, hours and conditions of labor and report these to the public. This time, he said, it had been determined to go a step farther and investigate the earnings of the corporation involved.

"And the little bit of confidence that I am going to give you," he added, "is an advance statement of one of the items in that situation—that the largest corporation engaged in the production of copper in the Michigan district was organized in 1879 under the laws of the state of Michigan; that the face value of its capital stock is $2,500,000. The shares are $25 each. They were procured at $12 each, so the actual investment is $1,250,000. From that time until one year ago, the last fiscal report that we had, a period of forty-two years, that corporation declared in dividends $121,000,000 on an investment of $1,250,000; and made reinvestments out of its earnings of $75,000,000. Nearly $200,000,000 of actual net profits in a period of forty-two years on an investment of $1,250,000, and then not only protest against meeting committees of their workmen, but refuse to accept the good offices of the department of labor in negotiating the difficulties.

"They say their property is their own, that they have the right to do with it as they please. Maybe they have, but those who hold that position have a false conception of titles to property."

The secretary said every title was law-created and law-protected and that deprived of those laws the property involved would be at the mercy of the first strong and cunning man who desired it.

MRS. SIMMONS TAKES POISON

Gossip Drives Woman to Commit Suicide at Excelsior Springs.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Martha C. Simmons, widow of Dr. C. S. Simmons of St. Louis, formerly a successful medicine manufacturer, committed suicide here. Mrs. Simmons utilized a slow poison. She was married to Dr. Simmons in 1908, after her sister, Hattie, who was Dr. Simmons' first wife, had secured a divorce. She had acted as the doctor's private secretary while he was living with his first wife.

A Kansas City physician, to whom Mrs. Simmons had been engaged until a week ago, declared Mrs. Simmons had told him unceasing gossip concerning her relations with Dr. Simmons prior to their marriage had made her despondent.

CLEVELAND IS RECOVERING

Icicles and Snow on Roofs Menace to Pedestrians.

Cleveland, Nov. 13.—The work of restoring Cleveland to normal order is proceeding rapidly. Supplies of coal and food began to come in and inconveniences due to the recent blizzard rapidly were eliminated.

Electric light service to many parts of the city which have been dark for three nights were partially restored.

The menace of icicles and mountains of snow which festoon all the downtown buildings caused police to be stationed along the streets to warn people to keep out near the curb.

Storm Wrecks Ship; Crew of 32 Lost.

Goderich, Ont., Nov. 13.—Another tragedy has been added to the long list of disasters as a result of the terrific storm, which prevailed on the lakes. Wreckage from the freighter James Carruthers washed ashore. That it has foundered a few miles off Goderich harbor seems certain and its crew of thirty-two men, headed by Captain Wright of Toronto, are believed to have been lost.

Wrecked Freighter Believed Regina.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 13.—After working desperately since morning in an unsuccessful attempt positively to identify the derelict freighter which lies bottom side up in stormy Lake Huron, eight miles northwest of here, many marine men returned to Port Huron convinced that the boats was the Canadian Pacific freighter Regina.

Charlton Trial Postponed.

Como, Italy, Nov. 13.—Porter Charlton, the young American awaiting trial here on the charge of murdering his wife at Lake Como in 1910, learned that the hearing of the case was not likely to begin before the end of March.

The Government Wants Dairymen.

The establishment of creameries on several irrigation projects of the government during the past two years has proven so successful that there is widespread interest in dairying among the settlers. Unfortunately many of the settlers are without the necessary capital to purchase good dairy stock and for the time being are forced to continue the uneconomic method of selling all their forage crops. A large number of these settlers are trying to operate more land than their means will permit, and with a view of engaging in dairying are desirous of subdividing their farms in order to get money for the purchase of stock. This has placed on the market a considerable area of land on several projects where nearly all of the government land has been taken up. The prices and terms offered are more on the basis of the need for money than on actual value, and offer excellent opportunities for experienced dairymen to establish themselves in communities where the success of their enterprise is practically assured. There are numerous sections where good land suited for dairy farming can be had at prices ranging from $25 to $50 per acre, with water ready for irrigation. On all these projects the markets for dairy products, beef and pork, are excellent and there is every indication of a continuance for an indefinite period. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that dairy farming in the west is the safest, surest, and in the long run the most profitable form of agriculture to engage in.

The settlement agent of the U. S. reclamation service at Chicago is furnishing information concerning location, prices and terms to all who are seeking homes in the west, but is especially desirous of interesting practical farmers with capital. Many of these projects contain a few government farms available for homesteading, and literature describing them is also supplied. In view of the very high prices prevailing elsewhere for lands suitable for dairying, the western opportunities are regarded as exceedingly attractive.

DONAHOE GUILTY; STIEFEL ACQUITTED

Attorney Fined Two Thousand Dollars in Funk Case.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Attorney Daniel Donahoe, charged with conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, was found guilty and fined $2,000. Detective Isaac Stiefel, tried on the same charge, was found not guilty.

Donahoe and Stiefel were indicted, charged with conspiracy to defame, after a suit charging Mr. Funk with having alienated the affections of Mrs. John C. Henning had been dismissed. Henning, in whose name the suit against Mr. Funk was brought, had been a bellboy. He disappeared after the trial, but was arrested in Minneapolis just before the trial of Donahoe and Stiefel began. He and Mrs. Henning were the chief witnesses for the prosecution.

The names of both former Senator Lorimer and Edward Hines, millionaire lumber merchant, were mentioned in the Donahoe trial by Funk, who related the substance of testimony given before the United States senate. Mr. Funk testified that Edward Hines had said: "Well, we put Lorimer over, but it cost $100,000."

Judge English of the district court granted a permanent injunction. Newspapers are bound by contract to return metal to the association after the "plates" have been used.

Shakespeare in California.

The Los Angeles board of education, acting upon the advice of School Superintendent Francis, has excluded "The Merchant of Venice" from the schools. "I do not believe," says Francis, "that 'The Merchant of Venice' correctly portrays the character of the Jew. There are many fine traits of Jewish character that are not brought out in Shakespeare's play." Why not exclude all of Shakespeare's plays? "Hamlet," for example, which the Francis type of mind would naturally consider as suggesting that all Danes are morbidly semi-insane; "Macbeth," which Mr. Francis might presume to imply that all Scotchmen are murderers.—Sacramento Union.

Moving Picture Animals.

A jungle of several acres, inhabited by wild animals of all countries, many of which are already well trained for the parts they are to play as motion picture actors, is maintained near Los Angeles by one of the big American film-producing companies. It is intended to extend the acreage and accommodations until the motion picture jungle will form the largest single collection of wild animals in the world, and within it will be, and now are, enacted many stirring scenes. A big elephant named "Toddles" is, for instance, the star performer in a film catalogued as "Lost in the Jungle," in which Toddles, during his wanderings in the forest, finds the heroine lying exhausted on the ground, and, kneeling, lifts her to his back and gallantly carries her to safety. All the animals are as conscientiously trained to do acts for the motion picture camera as are the trained animals of a circus.

Unpretentious Royal Abode.

King Charles of Roumania has seen many changes, largely effected by himself, in his Balkan kingdom since he arrived there in 1866 after an adventurous journey in disguise from Germany. Notable among them are the changes in his capital and in his own palace. When he made his triumphal entry as the country's new prince the carriage reached a house before which a guard of honor was stationed. "What house is that?" he asked. "That is the palace," replied General Goleski. The prince, thinking he had misunderstood him, said: "Where is the palace?" And the general was so embarrassed that he could only point silently to the one-storied building. The principal feature of the view from the windows on one side was a gypsy encampment, with swine wallowing in the main road before the palace!

NEWELL SANDERS.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEETS AT COLUMBUS

Campaign for Nation-Wide Prohibition is Started.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Nation-wide prohibition, to be accomplished through an amendment to the federal constitution, was the keynote sounded by speakers at the national convention of the Anti-Saloon league. Thousands cheered when speakers demanded that the prohibition question be put squarely up to congress at once.

Former Senator Sanders of Tennessee, who presided, told the convention it would be necessary to have as president of the United States a man in favor of national prohibition before it can be accomplished.

Marian Lawrence, general secretary of the International Sunday School association, told of Sunday school work throughout the country and declared they are making "voters of tomorrow" who will support national prohibition providing it does not come before they have a chance to vote.

Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie of Washington, executive superintendent, said a campaign will be started to give proper credit to congressmen and senators who voted for the passage of the Webb-Kenyon bill.

"With two-thirds of the territory in the country dry now, the time has come when the people are ready to promulgate a campaign for national prohibition," he said.

BISHOPS DENY REPORT

Methodists Not Buried Under Big Debt for Foreign Missions.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 12.—Reports circulated that the board of foreign missions of the Methodist church was buried under a $750,000 debt was vigorously denied by the bishops in session here. Missionaries from India stated there had been a building up of over 100 per cent in Christianity in that country in the last ten years. The lower caste of the natives were those most affected.

At the meeting of the foreign mission board it was decided to appropriate $1,157,469 for the Methodist mission work of the next year. Of this amount $893,658 goes to field work The total is $48,465 more than was appropriated last year.

It was decided to build a new native church at Singapore to cost $20,000. The announcement also was made of a gift of $40,000 for the work in France.
